In 1886 John Pemberton a druggist in Atlanta, Georgia (USA), made a brown syrup by mixing coca leaves and cola nuts. Pemberton sold the syrup in his drugstore as a medicine to cure all kinds of problems. He called his all-purpose medicine “Coca-Cola”.

When few people bought Coca-Cola, Pemberton sold the recipe to another druggist,

Asa Candler .

Candler decided to sell Coca-Cola as a soda-fountain drink instead of a medicine.

At the soda fountains in drugstores, the syrup was mixed with soda water to make the drink Coca-Cola. Candler advertised a lot and sold his syrup to many drugstores. Soon everyone was going to soda fountains and asking for Coca-Cola.

Candler saw no reason for putting Coca-Cola into bottles. But two businessmen thought this would be a good idea.

They got permission from Candler, and before long they became millionaires.

As of 1903, coca leaves were no longer used in Coca-Cola. The exact ingredients used and their quantities aren't known – the Coca-Cola Company keeps its recipe a secret.

World War I helped make Coca-Cola popular outside the United States.

The Coca-Cola Company sent free bottles of the drink to U.S. soldiers fighting in Europe. Coca-Cola became very popular with the soldiers – so popular that the U.S. Army asked the company to start ten factories in Europe. After the war, these factories continued to make Coca-Cola. Today, they are Coca-Cola factories around the world.
